CAROL E. SHERIDAN, 25, 535 Via Lola, suffered only a minor nose injury when the sun, reflected from a window, blinded her and she ran her car into a parked vehicle, which in turn smashed into another car. Owners of the two parked cars were Pete J. Ahlfeld and George S. Walker, both of Los Angeles and both examiners for the Division of Building and Loan. The young woman was treated at Desert Hospital for a cracked nasal bone. According to officer Neal Green who investigated the accident, the girl will be cited for driving without due caution. (Desert Sun Photo)

Village Outdoor Lighting Contest Now Under Way

Plans were completed today for the first annual "Christmas in the Desert" outdoor lighting contest being sponsored in Palm Springs by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The first official entry blank appears on this page of The Desert Sun, and the blank will appear regularly until the contest officially ends with Dec. 18 postmarked entries.

PERSONS DESIRING to enter merely have to clip the coupon and mail it to the address shown or to The Desert Sun. Receipt of the completed form will place the home or business in competition for the many prizes being offered by the JayCeers.

Rules for the contest follow: The entry blank must be postmarked not later than Dec. 18, displays must be lighted between 6 and 10 p.m., each evening. Entries will be judged on artistic merit, originality, lighting techniques and ingenuity. No entry fee is required, and cost of decorations is not a factor in the judging.

THE ACTUAL JUDGING will take place on Dec. 21, with names of winners to be announced soon thereafter.

A color photograph of the winner in the residential division will then be entered in the national General Electric contest.

Boys Club Seeks Lienau Site for $80,000 Structure

Members of the board of directors of the Palm Springs Boys Club appeared before the City Council yesterday to request that the city allow them to use two acres of land on the Lienau Village site for a new building for the organization.

After a lengthy discussion, the council referred the matter to the Park and Recreation board for a recommendation, and Councilwoman Ruth Hardy, a member of that committee, indicated that because of the school district being turned down on a similar request last year, it may not meet with a good response.

PRESENT TO PLEAD the case for the Boys Club was Aaron H. Fahringer, regional director for the Boys Club of America, who told the council that the proposed building would cost some $80,000 when completed. He showed the group pictures of recently completed Boys Club buildings throughout the state, and said that there were 450 Boys Clubs in the nation, 70 of which are in California.

Raymond Crea, president of the local Boys Club, said that the committee has searched carefully for a site for the new building, but has been unable to find anything on Sections 14 or 24. He added that they had looked at other property, privately owned, and it was much too costly.

THE LOCAL COMMITTEE contends that the Lienau Village site is the best to serve most of the boys in Palm Springs, and affords them the use of school facilities (football field, swimming, basketball courts) as well as city facilities at the Polo Grounds and baseball park.

The club is currently located at 1000 East Andreas road, on a site too small for any outdoor activities.

Fahringer said that the Palm Springs group is planning a fund subscription campaign just after the first of the year to secure monies to build the new building.

Sabotage Theory Followed in 10 Death Explosion

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal and local authorities sought evidence of sabotage in the smoldering ruins of the city's largest pier today. Fire and a thunderous explosion on the pier late Monday killed at least 10 persons, injured some 400 others and caused an estimated $15 million damage.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said he had ordered Fire Marshal Martin Scott to "explore all possibilities including sabotage" by going through the debris "with a fine toothed comb." FBI and Navy intelligence agents joined in the investigation, which Cavanagh described as "scientific."

FIREFIGHTERS STILL poured water on the blaze this morning, more than 17 hours after it broke out on the giant Luckenbach Steamship Line pier.

A manifest of 4,000 tons of cargo on the pier revealed that most of it was highly flammable. But Cavanagh said he did not believe that even acetylene tanks stored there could have been responsible for the explosion. It was so powerful, he pointed out, that it sprayed steel beams five feet long over a wide area and sent flames shooting 1,000 feet into the sky.

He said cargo generally does not explode all at once "even where highly inflammable materials are involved."

Mac Hutchens Resigns Post With Desert Sun

Mac L. Hutchens, executive editor of The Desert Sun, has resigned his position in Palm Springs to return to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Hutchens came to the Village a year ago in January, to help organize the daily Desert Sun. Prior to that time he had spent 15 years with the St. Louis newspaper.

In his resignation, Hutchens said that he was planning to be in St. Louis and back on the job as editorial writer for the Globe-Democrat Publishing Company, during the second week in January.

Returning to St. Louis with him will be his wife, Kate, and son, Kent. His daughter, Judy, is attending Ontario Junior College, and will complete the year there.

On The Desert Sun staff, Don Klotzbuecher, city editor, has taken over the main desk, handling both city and world news, assisted by Fred Weigel, R. F. "Phat" Graettinger will continue to handle the sports page and write his column, "This Side of the Sun," which appears daily.

Troop Evacuation Fleet Mustered

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France began mustering an evacuation fleet in Port Said today, but warned that no troops will leave until full details of the withdrawal have been worked out with U.N. leaders.

Troopships and landing craft from Malta and Cyprus converged on the Allied beachhead in Egypt to carry out the Anglo-French promise to withdraw from the Suez Canal Zone.

"All preliminary moves are being made in anticipation of orders yet to be received," said a spokesman for the Allied high command.

Sewerage Plant to Need 100 Acres Instead of 40

Representatives of the San Bernardino firm of Foulke, Crist and Brodie, said yesterday that the City of Palm Springs would have to have a total of 100 acres to use for a sewerage disposal plant, instead of the 40 which were originally planned.

Marion Crist told the City Council at the informal luncheon meeting yesterday that one of the plans developed a year ago has been protested by the State Health Department and the Water Pollution Control Board, not on sanitary reasons, but because of the psychological effect on citizens.

THE FIRST PLAN would have sent all the sewerage water after it had been clarified, digested and filtered, into the Tahquitz Wash. The water would be from 92 to 95 percent pure.

Check Artist Active Here On Weekend

Passes Several Thousand Dollars in Clothing Stores

One of the cleverest check artists to ever operate in Palm Springs, left town Sunday night taking several thousand dollars in expensive clothing and leaving behind bad checks in every major clothing store in the Village.

According to Lt. Robert White of the Palm Springs Police department, the man, a female companion, another couple and three children arrived in the Village Friday, and went to the residence of Mrs. Evelyn Green, 455 Camino Norte, and offered to rent her home (which he saw advertised in the newspaper) for $2,000 per month. Mrs. Green accepted the rent in a check for that amount drawn on the Occidental Bank in North Hollywood, and the couple moved in that evening.

THE RENT CHECK, as well as checks passed in the Village, were signed by a Louis P. Goble, who gave his address as 12634 Burbank Boulevard, North Hollywood. The passer had a temporary California driver's license which he showed for identification.

The operation of the suspect's was described as follows:

The couple would go into a local store, purchase clothing and write a check for the exact amount of the purchase. The storekeeper, if suspicious, would ask for identification and would be shown the operator's license.

Britain Seeks Deferment on Loan Interest

LONDON (AP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan said today Britain will seek to defer interest payments due the United States and Canada to ease the economic pressure resulting from the Suez crisis.

The money saved, he said, will be used to pay for emergency shipments of oil from the United States.

Macmillan made his announcement as Britain's gold and dollar reserves plunged to a grave new low. November's drop of $279 million was the greatest since 1952, but Macmillan said the government was determined to maintain the British pound at $2.80.

He said Britain also plans to reduce its $1.3 billion contribution to the international monetary fund and perhaps to sell some of its dollar securities to bolster dwindling reserves of hard currency.

He announced increases in prices and customs duties on oil which will boost the price of gasoline in this country to 84 cents a gallon. But he said he hopes no further "austerity" measures will be needed.

30,000 Girls, Women Defy Red Armor

Brave Gun Fire to Honor Hungary's Unknown Soldier

BUDAPEST (AP)—More than 30,000 women and young girls defied Soviet armor and machine-gun fire today to lay flowers on the tomb of Hungary's unknown soldier.

At least one woman was wounded by a Russian bullet during the brief skirmish.

The demonstration commemorated the second bloody Soviet onslaught on Budapest exactly a month ago today.

LEAFLETS SCATTERED in the streets Monday night called for a demonstration of mourning for husbands, sons and brothers lost in the Budapest fighting.

Shortly after 11 a.m., women by the thousands began converging on the monument in Heroes' Square in the left-bank city of Pest.

The Russians rushed scores of armored cars to the scene to seal off the approaches to the Square before most of the mourners could reach the monument. Soviet tanks took position on the Danube bridges, separating women in the right-bank city of Buda from the demonstrators across the river.

A FEW HUNDRED women reached the monument before the Russians tightened the cordon, and thousands more hurled themselves at the wall of steel.

Russian tommygunners jumped out of the armored cars to push back the screaming women.

"Look at those Russians!" one elderly woman shouted. "They have guns and they are afraid! We are only women with our children, but we are not afraid."

MEN TOOK NO part in the demonstration. One who tried to push his way into the column was forced out by women who told him that the demonstration was for "mothers, sisters and daughters only."

Defense Minister Ferenc Muenich rushed to the scene, and after he had conferred with two Russian generals the Soviet tanks opened to let the mourners reach the monument.

The first violence occurred when a Russian officer tried to drag a pretty Hungarian teenager who had spat at him into his armored car. A dozen women rushed him and wrestled the girl from his grip.

A few minutes later a Soviet general pushed a woman who had passed to shake her fist in his face, and other women charged in to push and slap the officer.

He drew his pistol, and nearby Russian soldiers opened fire as the women scattered. One fell, shot in the leg.

McKesson Named District Attorney To Succeed Roll

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Board of Supervisors today appointed Superior Judge William B. McKesson to the post of district attorney of Los Angeles County to succeed the late S. Ernest Roll.

Appointment of the 61-year-old jurist to serve until the 1958 elections was approved unanimously by the supervisors. Asst. Dist. Atty. Adolph Alexander had been acting district attorney since Roll's death on Oct. 26.

McKesson's name was put in nomination by Supervisor Herbert C. Legg, who praised the judge as "a man who would be as diligent in protecting the innocent as in prosecuting the guilty."

Informed of his selection, McKesson said: "It's going to be necessary to have the support of all citizens to achieve good law enforcement. I feel it is a grave responsibility. If we want to make the law respectable, we must respect the law."

3 New Features Offered Readers In Today's Sun

Three new features for the entertainment of readers are added today to the pages of The Desert Sun.

On the comic page is the fastest growing comic in readership in the United States, "Peanuts," along with the ever popular "Gordo."

And on the editorial page is the nationally syndicated column of Holmes Alexander.

These additions are in line with The Desert Sun's policy of offering its readers the best possible local, state, national and world news coverage plus the top features available. Publisher Ward J. Risvold stated.

Parking Group Decides on $500 For Amado Cafe

Off-street parking committee met Monday at El Mirador Hotel, where they discussed recommendations to be brought before the City Council for official action.

Members will recommend that the Amado Cafe be charged $500 as an off street parking fund donation to up-grade its liquor license without council protest. The group also will ask that the council establish a regular policy for all local businesses that have similar circumstances.

The committee report, told the council at its informal meeting by City Manager R. W. Peterson, also will, recommend the Pevler lot be used for off-street parking and should be paid for completely by a parking district.

Further recommendations will ask that Simon Elms, consultant, be directed to prepare a master overall parking plan as soon as possible.

U.N. Official To Be Democratic Group Speaker

C. M. Nelson, representative of the United Nations to the Motion picture industry and one of the state leaders of the American Association for United Nations, will be the featured speaker at the Palm Springs Area Democratic Club meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday, at the American Legion hall.

New officers of the club will be elected, and they will be installed at the dinner Dec. 11 in honor of Congressman-elect J. S. Sand of Westmorland. Final plans for the dinner also will be completed at the meeting.

The public is invited to attend both the election meeting and the dinner, according to Club President Herb Hass.

SP Pays County $151,729 as First Tax Installment

Mrs. V. M. Hyde, Riverside County tax collector, will receive a check for $151,729 from Southern Pacific this week.

The payment is the first installment of the railroad's 1956-57 county tax bill, according to F. B. Magruder, SP's tax commissioner. That amount is about the same as last year.

Also on its way is a check for $28,122 from SP's brand new subsidiary, Southern Pacific Pipe Lines, Inc. It will pay the first installment on county taxes of $36,244, Magruder said. The pipe line company, which began operations this year, is making its first county tax payment.

Internal Revenue Agents Sieze Cafe Equipment

Agents of the Internal Revenue office yesterday seized the cafe equipment of the Palm Cafeteria, 266 North Palm Canyon Drive, for failure to pay withholding taxes amounting to $5,500 for the first three quarters of 1956.

Melvin Engle, collection officer with the Riverside office of Internal Revenue, said that real estate was not involved in the seizure.

Tentative sale of the equipment at public auction has been set for the first part of January, unless the owner, Donald Milner, pays amount in full prior to that time.

The Palm Cafeteria was not in operation at the time of seizure, and will remain closed until a settlement is made or the auction is held, Engle said.

Furrier Predicts Mink Coats for Men Are on Way

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Next, mink coats for men. And at prices below those for women.

That is what one designer bravely forecast this week. Furrier Saul Aronowicz said he already is making—and selling as fast as he can produce — men's jackets in South American pony, reverse lamb, calfskin and natural raccoon.

"Next is mink," said Aronowicz, who said he already has filled a few orders for mink lining in overcoats.

"But with a difference," added the furrier, whose family has been in the industry for four generations. Aronowicz said the mink skins for men's coats and jackets will be sewn so that the bulkiness of the fur remains—not "let out," to produce the sleekness women demand. He figured that without the extra labor, he can turn out a man's mink for $1,000.

Aronowicz said he made his first fur jacket, in other, six months ago on special order from a French count. Other men saw, and orders began to pour in. The furrier said he expected more men to turn to fur including mink because "they've been sad looking... in a clothing rut so long."

"And why," he asked, "shouldn't a man show off his success with his own mink coat, as well as one for his wife?"

First 'Messiah' Rehearsal Set For Tuesday

Rehearsals for the annual Palm Springs Civic Chorus' annual Christmas presentation of "The Messiah" by George Frederick Handel, have been scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 at the High School, the first rehearsal occurring tonight.

The concert will be on Monday evening, Dec. 17, in Cahuilla School, a traditional event of the Christmas season.

Conductor Harry Tomlinson invites all singers interested in participating in this concert to attend rehearsals and share in this feature of Christmas festivities in Palm Springs.

Local Assembly To Attend Meet

Several members of the Palm Springs Republican Assembly are expected to be represented at the "Victory Celebration" of the California Republican Assembly's quarterly meeting to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 7 through 9, at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo.

Arnold Rumwell, local president, said that reservations for the conference may be made through Al Hoover, secretary.

The last quarterly conference was held in Palm Springs, with Howard Pyle, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, as featured speaker.

Aid to County Residents Described in New Book

Payments of Old Age Security in Riverside county in fiscal 1955-56 totaled $5,939,000, Aid to Needy Children $1,350,000, and County General Relief (Indigent Aid) $177,000. These figures include all aspects of each program and are from county, state, and federal funds.

Ranking fourteenth in population among the 58 counties of California in 1954, Riverside county ranked ninth in total expenditures for public assistance to the needy. It ranked thirteenth at the time in dollars contributed to major voluntary welfare, health, and recreation causes.

And the county ranked fourteenth in amounts of "social security" benefits (Old-Age and Survivors Insurance) paid to persons living in it.

The public aid total was $9,062,323, the contributions total $464,875, and the OASI total $4,863,100 for the year.

THESE NEW FIGURES and over a hundred others about Riverside county, appear in a new 350 page book, "California Social Welfare," published this week.

The book presents the findings of a $30,000 research project, commissioned and financed as a non-profit enterprise by the Commonwealth Club of California (founded 1903). The author, Vaughn Davis Bornet, Ph.D., of Menlo Park, spent three years on the project. "California Social Welfare" is the first book to give so much detailed information about welfare, health and recreation in every county of an entire state. Factual in content, the book is intended to be objective and non-partisan. Publisher is Prentice-Hall, Inc.

WHILE RANKING ninth in overall public aid expenditures, Riverside county ranked differently for individual programs in 1954. The ranking on assistance payments, by programs, was: Aid to Needy Children fourteenth, aids for the blind tenth, Old Age Security seventh, and County General Relief (Indigent Aid) eighteenth. The county was among 16 other counties in California which put the largest percentage of its expenditures for these programs from county funds into the Old Age Security program.

Escrow Group Hears Talk About Instruction Forms

Arthur Swanner, Riverside attorney, was the featured speaker at the regular meeting of the Riverside County Escrow Association, held at Highlands Springs Resort, using as his subject, "Escrow Cancellations."

Swanner called for a standardization of escrow instruction forms used by the various offices, to simplify procedure, and also told the group that an escrow instruction, once it is signed by all parties in a property transaction, becomes a contract for a specific period of time.

President Wilma Wilson of Palm Springs, commended the membership committee on its progress to date, and introduced new members at the meeting.

Program chairman for the meeting was Alvin Fisher, Banning attorney, who was aided by the San Geronimo Building and Loan Association, the Pacific Coast Title Company of Riverside, and the Banning Branch of the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank.

Next session, scheduled for January, will be a joint meeting of the Escrow Associations of Riverside and San Bernardino counties, with the place and date to be announced later.

Thurman Arnold Opens Own Law Office in Village

Thurman Arnold, Jr., has announced the opening of offices for the practice of law at 687 North Palm Canyon Drive in Palm Springs. At the same time, Arnold announced his withdrawal from the partnership of Simon, Brown and Arnold.

Arnold has been practicing law in Palm Springs for the past two years. Prior to coming to that city, he was associated with the firm of Dunne, Dunne and Phelps in San Francisco, engaged largely in trial work for the Southern Pacific Company and also, on some anti-trust matters, with the firm of Arnold, Fortas and Porter of Washington, D.C. He is presently one of the attorneys for Racine and Sons in an anti-trust suit filed last month against Sunkist Growers for $12,000,000.

Arnold received his undergraduate education at Yale University. Upon his graduation, with honors, in 1941, he entered the United States Navy where he served for five years—four of them overseas—during World War II, being released with the rank of lieutenant commander. He entered Yale Law School in 1946, received his degree two years later and became a member of the California Bar in 1949.

He is active in local affairs, being, among other things, a member of the board of trustees of the Desert Bar Association, a member of the board of directors of Kiwanis Club, a member of the executive board of the Palm Springs Democratic Club, and vice president of the Junior High School Parent-Teachers Guild.

Realtors to Hear Lloyd Loveland

Lloyd Loveland, Indio Realtor and member of the Riverside County Planning Commission, will be the featured speaker at the monthly breakfast meeting of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board at 8 a.m., Thursday, Dec. 6, at the Ranch Club.

New members of the board will be inducted by James Hammond. President Theresa Press will preside at the session.

Office Opened by Dr. E. M. Brown

Dr. E. M. Brown, who practiced in the San Francisco area for 20 years, this week announced the opening of offices here in association with Dr. Robert Bertrand, 67-923 Highway 111.

Dr. Brown is limiting his practice to arthritis and facial lifting by the electro-galvanic method.

ONE OF THE MANY outstanding businesses to open recently in Palm Desert, is Alice Parry White's Patio 5 and 10, located opposite the Post Office. Mrs. White, who is married to Forrest White of Welcome and White Real Estate firm, has lived in the desert for the past fifteen years and in Palm Desert for the last two. With a wide professional and business background, she was for many years a public accountant in Palm Springs and from 1947 to 1951 administrative assistant to Congressman John Phillips. At the present time, in addition to operating her Patio 5 & 10, she is manager of the Palm Desert Center which she remodeled and redecorated two years ago. (Desert Sun Photo)

Water Source is Most Frequent Museum Query

What single feature of the Palm Springs area interests most the visitors to the Desert Museum?

Dr. C. E. Smith, director of the Museum, has a short and to-the-point answer for the question: "Water."

"They aren't interested so much in water for the reason that most of us are who know that it is the lifeblood of all of Southern California," he explains. "Our visitors want to know about the source of water that could turn a desert wasteland into such a lush oasis as Palm Springs."

"AND THEY ARE greatly fascinated when we can explain to them how our vital water flows right out of the canyons at our back doors, and how Palm Springs and the neighboring communities are so fortunate to have vast mountain slopes gathering their water supply with nature's help," he said.

Three other subjects also intrigue the thousands of Palm Springs hotel guests, tourists and visitors who annually visit the popular museum on East Tahquitz Drive. These are the Salton Sea, the snakes (are they poisonous?) of the desert, and the geological formations.

Presence of the Salton Sea, a land-locked salty body of water, is a constant source of interest and generally one or more of the exhibits in the Museum will refer to it and show its history. THE UNINITIATED, and particularly those who plan to do some hiking in the desert or nearby slopes, are apprehensive about snakes, and they come to pick up some valuable pointers from Dr. Smith on what to do when the big-boy rattlers or their smaller cousins, the sidewinders are encountered. Through a new plastic mould method life-like forms of these various snakes are being made by the museum director, and visitors later will be able to see collections of the reptiles looking real enough to slither away or give a warning buzz of the rattles. The system is considered much superior to having the snakes "in the flesh."

GEOLOGICAL phenomena are everywhere in the desert, and are a never-ending source of questions from the desert visitors. Particularly are these features emphasized on the field trips conducted each Saturday by the Museum director, most often with 25 to 35 persons in the group, although it is not uncommon to double that figure on many hikes.

Exhibits in the Museum building also picture the origin of the massive San Jacinto Mountain range, and other geological wonders of this area, and these are of interest to the visitors.

Junior Women To Sponsor Area Queen Candidate

The Cathedral City Junior Woman's Club today invited all girls between the ages of 17 and 22 to compete in a beauty contest to select an entrant to represent this community in the 1957 California Orange Show Queen Contest to be held at San Bernardino.

Contestants must be unmarried and must be bona fide residents of Riverside county, reside in this area and be not less than 17 nor more than 22 years old. High heels and one piece bathing suits must be furnished and worn by the contestants. Girls will be judged on the basis of beauty, poise, and personality.

The local contest sponsored by the Cathedral City Junior Woman's Club will be held at the Cathedral City Town Hall and the contestant winning will compete with girls from Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego counties for the title of 1957 California Orange Show Queen and will reign over the Orange Show from March 14-24.

Anyone interested in becoming a contestant is asked to call Mrs. Thomas Brindle 8-5105; Mrs. Jean Rodman 8-3261; Mrs. Harold Bentley 8-7281; or Mrs. Kenneth Squires 8-3075 not later than Dec. 14.

Lake Athabasca in Saskatchewan has given up what is believed to be the largest lake trout ever taken—80 pounds 8 ounces and 52 inches long.

State Music Association To Organize Branch Here

Organizing of a new branch in the desert area will be the purpose of a meeting here of the California Music Teachers Association on Dec. 8, when the group from every community in the Southland meets at the Plaza Music Shop.

All teachers of music and voice are invited to attend the meeting which will start at 7:30 p. m.

Due to the steady increase in population in Southern California, many new branches have been organized by the association, including Whittier, Santa Barbara, Orange, Hollywood and Pomona Valley.

The association was founded in 1897 by a group of San Francisco musicians, with its purpose to widen channels of cultural influence as well as to raise the standards of music teaching.

Among the features of the association is the California Plan, which is an in-service training project by which teachers can earn professional degrees; the Certificate of Merit awards, presented annually to students who have earned them through regular attendance, practice and musical progress; and the Young Artists Guild, which provides professional engagements for young artists.

YOU ENJOY INCREASED HEADROOM—made possible by recessing the floor within the frame, and by the unique, straight-line design of the roof. Mercury's outside height is a sleek, shoulder-high 4 feet 8 inches.

Texas-big all over! Far longer, wider! Bigger in every important dimension!

Here, by far, is the most spacious Mercury ever built. Even with 6 big passengers, there is no "hemmed in" feeling. There's move-around comfort for all.

BIGGEST SIZE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—The new Mercury is over 17½ feet long, more than 6½ feet wide. Close to 2 tons big. The doors are much wider for easier entrance and exit. The passenger compartment alone is almost 9 feet long. Headroom has been generously increased. THE BIG M is family-car big—with much more leg room, shoulder room, and elbow room for all the family.

FAR GREATER VISION—You are surrounded with up to 4,122 square inches of glass—more glass area than a picture window 3 feet by 9 feet. The corner posts are so slim you scarcely know they're there.

DREAM-CAR STYLED—A new look shared by no other car. Clean-cut, lean, dynamic, it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

BIGGEST VALUE INCREASE IN THE INDUSTRY—Never before has so much bigness and luxury cost so little. Check the price tags—and our easy terms—at our showroom. You will be amazed at how little more it costs down—and per month—for a big new Mercury than for the lowest priced cars.

CHRISTMAS

For thirty years I have waged a one-man campaign against the abbreviation of the word "Christmas" by using an "X" in the place of Christ. The practice is indulged in mostly for the shortening of the word as a matter of convenience. Headline writers for newspapers—and advertising copywriters—find it particularly convenient. Others use it for no good reason at all.

During the last few years there has been a trend away from the use of the abbreviation, which has made me very happy. Letters have come from individuals—and other editors—who are joining in the crusade. Many large stores, I have learned, do not permit "Xmas" to appear on their advertising copy. On the other hand, many printers of Christmas cards still persist in its use.

Some interesting comments have been received from readers through the years, during which I have dedicated one editorial in December to the cause. Several have objected to my protests on the grounds that there is a religious significance to using the "X" in place of Christ. One interesting letter was received from a Palm Springs clergyman who cited historical background to show that the origin of the short spelling stems from religion. He did agree, however, that its use in this generation is not in good taste.

Beautiful Word

To many people the observance of Christmas has lost its religious significance, and with it has gone the beauty of one of the most beautiful words in the English language. For them the abbreviated word does just as well; Christmas is just a time of gift-giving. But to those to whom Christmas Day brings new hope and encouragement, the word is filled with beauty. More and more are finding it so.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Call Off the Cops

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The cops of the Senate investigating committees still have to catch their first big crook. They sleuthed around last summer over the Natural Gas bill, but failed to put the arm on anyone but petty violators. They gushed throughout the national election last fall, but haven't caught up with evidence that any election in any State was "bought" or "stolen."

How come the cops have caught no robbers? One reason is, as everybody knows, that the cops don't want to. The investigation of illicit lobbying is, in fact, an investigation of the Senate, by the Senate, for the Senate. Do you expect members of the world's most exclusive club to expose one another? Don't be naive.

THE INVESTIGATION of wrong campaign spending is the same sort of thing. It's a study of practical politics by practical politicians. Nobody in the Senate, and nobody in the Senate press gallery, ever expected anything to come of this one. And nothing ever did.

But there's another reason why cops don't catch robbers. Sometimes there aren't any—or aren't many—to be caught. I'm aware that every schoolboy "knows" that the corridors of Capitol Hill are swarming with seducers of weak, innocent or venal legislators. I "knew" it myself before I'd ever spent much time in the corridors.

But it might surprise the schoolboys, as it surprised me, to learn that most lobbyists these days are self-respecting fellows who earn an honest and open living by representing their clients in the "right of petition" before Congress. Lobbyists are employed by business associations, by special pleaders like farmers and veterans, and by Labor groups. Any organization with a large stake in Government activities would be foolish not to keep a lobbyist in town.

DURING THE Congressional session, people of all sorts flock to Washington. Some of these are the lobbyists' clients or other interested parties who want to get in on the act of petition. Usually, when something irregular takes place, it's the out-of-town kiltiber who has blundered. The professional lobbyist, who knows the rules, rarely breaks any.

The matter of campaign funds has recently been aired before an investigating committee. National Chairmen Paul Butler (D) and Leonard Hall (R) have both testified on campaign contributions to the same effect. Both have admitted that the letter of the law has been stretched and the spirit of the law violated. The limit of three million dollars on a national campaign is absurd in the face of what it costs a candidate to travel, to make a telecast, to maintain a staff.

But not many Republicans or Democrats who engage in national campaigns are crooks. Committee finance chairmen are apt to be persons of consequence in the community. They perform the thankless task of fund-raising and record-keeping in full knowledge that they may be called to give an account. Even a technical violation now and then would not establish any thesis of evil-doing.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Supermarket Replaces Studio

HOLLYWOOD — Wreckers are at work on Charlie Chaplin's old combination home-studio on Sunset Blvd., where he not only made movies but had his fateful assassination with Joan Barry. Time Marches On: A supermarket is going up there.

Paramount bought "Carnet du Bal" from Julien Duvivier, who first filmed the five-episode "La Ronde" type yarn back in 1933 with Michel Morgan, Fernando, Louis Jouvet, Raimu and many other great European stars. This one will have an all-star American cast, along the lines of Mike Todd's "Around the World in 80 Days" and Warners' currently-shooting "Story of Mankind." That's one way of getting "em into the theaters.

"Carnet du Bal" (meaning "Dance Program") is about a French filly who finds an old dance program from her school days and tries to recover her youth by looking up the men whose names are listed on it. . . . Fox plans teaming Jayne Mansfield and Elvis Presley in "The Love Maniac."

A WANDERING MOVIE title found a home when Paramount decided on "The Tin Star" for its new Western starring Henry Fonda and Tony Perkins. That was the original handle for "High Noon" . . . C. B. De Mille isn't a bit worried about some of those adverse notices on "The Ten Commandments." The reviews on his FIRST "Ten Commandments" men," way back in 1923, were bad too. But it's still showing in theatres in remote corners of the world and still making plenty of pelf for dear old Paramount.

Sam Zimbalist will go ahead with plans to shoot "Ben Hur" within the week. Another all-star item, this will be the Culver City lot's biggest for 1957, size-wise, costwise and castwise. . . . Ronald Colman says middle age is when you bend over twice to pick up two things.

Bob Kenaston, Billie Dove's son and an actor himself in "Tin Star," is cutting in on Tony Perkins' time with Elaine Aiken. He cooked her a duck dinner. . . . Jerry Lewis will follow Judy Garland at the Palace in New York when and if her business starts falling off. . . . "Friendly Persuasion": Lili Gentle and John Smith said "Thou is mine" to each other.

DEBBIE REYNOLDS and Eddie Fisher weren't born yet when Hollywood's Egyptian Theatre, where their "Bundle of Joy" will be premiered Dec. 21, was opened in 1924.

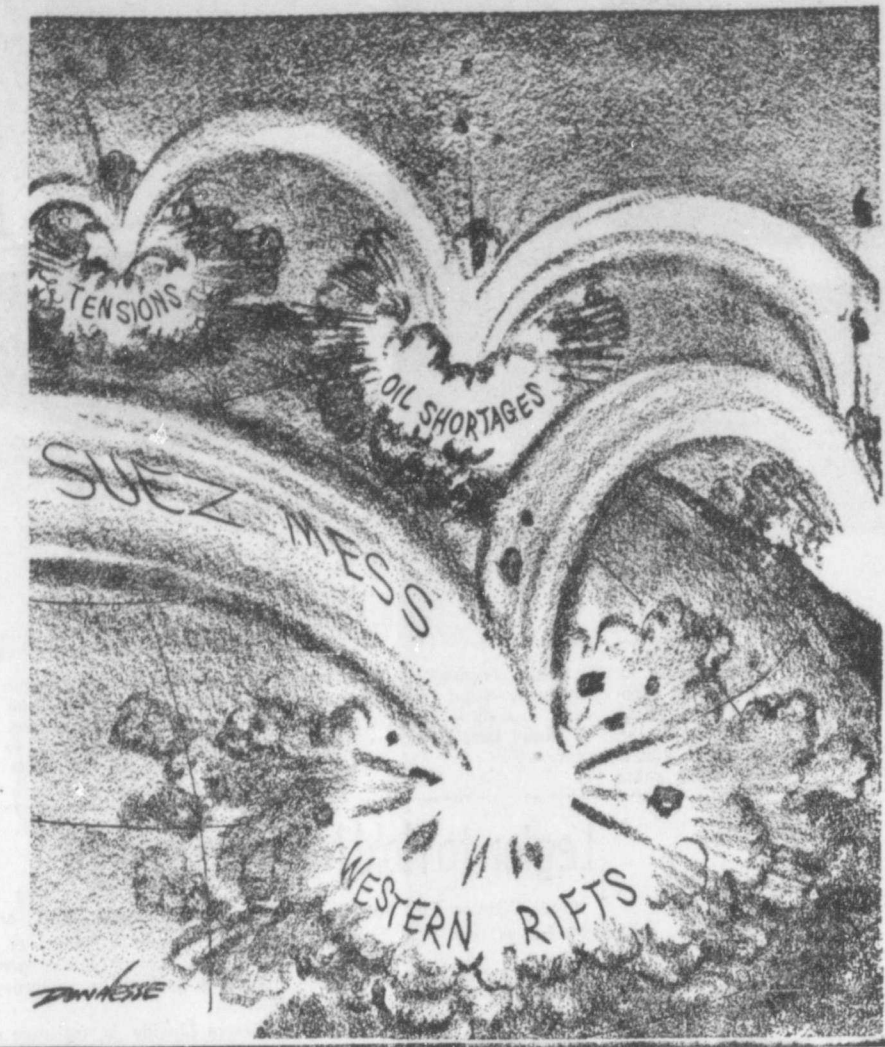

Harry Warner sold his interest in the Western Harness Racing Association for a whopping $3,000,000. . . . I met Bob Ivers at Paramount. The Alan Ladd-type lad (short, blondish, etc.) will do some Ladd-type gunning in his first starring stint there, "Short Cut to Hell," which Jimmy Cagney will direct. It sounds exactly like "This Gun for Hire," the one that made a star of Alan Ladd, same studio.

TV TOPICS — Eddie Alperon tested Ben Roswell, a waiter at The Red Snapper Inn in Hollywood, for a starring spot in Eddie's teleseries, "Black Beauty" . . . Ciro's put in an extra piano for Frances Faye's opening, so that she wouldn't get carried away on the keys.

Phil Karlson, directing starlet Dianne Foster in a new TV film, told me: "She's like a major league pitcher: perfect control over wonderful curves!" . . . Young Buddy Bregman, Hollywood's hottest musical genius and, incidentally, Jack Haley's son-in-law, was signed as musical director for Victor Borge's CBS spectacular Dec. 11 and for Jerry Lewis's NBC lambaste Jan. 19. . . . Getting down to cases, the Crew-Cutts are cutting some Budweiser commercials.

Don Taylor is on the prowl for "an elephant with personality" for the title role in his upcoming telefilm, "Sammy" . . . Mamie Van Doren, on a supermarket tour with Mickey Rooney, was told that her audiences had to buy $25 worth of groceries as admission to the shows. So when Mamie Undulated out onto the stage in El Paso her first words were, "You Texans sure eat an awful lot" . . . Ray Anthony, Mamie's husband, rode guess-what in the Santa Claus Parade on Hollywood Boulevard? A Plymouth. Aw, you peeked . . .

The DMV does think of you—
Than this what could be slicker?

No bolts or nuts to wrestle with,
Just add a gaudy sticker.

In case you are puzzled, DMV stands for Department of Motor Vehicles. And the following will prove that they are thinking of you all of the time.

EVER TUSSELE with sticky nuts and bolts when trying to change a license plate at the start of the new year?

Well, come next January you won't have to. The state is putting out a reflectorized sticker which goes on your back license plate.

Made of strong tape, it is simple to attach. Just slap it in place and there it stays and it cannot be removed without destroying it, thus balking any vandal or thief in their mind.

BESIDES, it will prove an added protection. Shine out in the following guy's headlights. And it's a gaudy red which will stand out on the yellow plate. The color combination ought to please all the old Trojan alumni here.

All you have to do, says the DMV, is to clean your rear license plate of grime, et cetera, between the "A" in "California" and the "56". Didn't say which "A".

After laundering the plate (without touching a nut or bolt) you press on the sticker and there it stays until the state asks you to dig up again in another year.

No banged knuckles or uncouth language.

SEE WHERE the newly organized Palm Springs Safety Council is going to buy a 16 mm projector for its educational programs.

Here's an idea they may have for nothing. Put a movie camera into a car and drive around town, taking movies of the screwy things drivers do.

Then invite these drivers to a showing of the films.

Think the police ought to do that, too. Then drivers who just behave when they see a police car wouldn't dare take a chance.

STAN ROSIN is persistent, at any rate. Some time ago he advertised a pet alligator needed a home and Mrs. Marian Lance, Cielo Vista school teacher, responded. She planned to use the 'gator in classes. But it became demised. Dead, to you.

Stan was back in Florida recently and got two more of the little 10-inch alligators. Sent her one and his brother one. They came by airplane from Florida.

Rosin explained that they do not grow big and ugly like the Florida alligators. Just ugly. They belong to the Saurian family, all right, but are sort of miniatures.

SAID HE HAS a lot of trouble giving them away as pets. Kids are eager for them and trot home with their prize only to be back in a few hours.

"Mom won't let me keep it," they always explain.

But I suggest that if he brings in any more, council pass an alligator leash law. Think of the loss of business to the night clubs if people saw an alligator on the loose on their way home!

INEZ ROBB:

'Friendly' New York

Nine out of every 10 visitors who come to New York carry away the unhappy and not altogether true conviction that we who dwell in this vast metropolis are not always neighborly or friendly, polite or courteous toward one another.

An English newspaper columnist recently here on business for the London Daily Express wrote his paper implying that a New Yorker could drop dead on the sidewalk and even his next of kin would simply step over the body and go on about his business.

Anyway you slice it, this is harsh criticism, implying lack of heart and humanity on the part of all of us. But so the indictments go, with no one ever rising to say a few words in behalf of the defendant.

BUT I HAVE a brace of stories for consumption today that will prove how hot is the milk of kindness that races through our veins and how superbly our politeness and humanitarianism rise to the exigencies of city life.

Let us take first the case of Liza, 5, and her vitamins.

Liza and her family live in a large, new apartment house. The residents of this cliff dwelling have long known that the water riser connecting the bathrooms acts as a perfect sounding board, and that any conversation in any bathroom is instantly broadcast throughout the building.

Now the tenant in the apartment above Liza and her parents is a charming gentleman of the old New York school, meaning that he minds his business and expects the neighbors to mind theirs.

HOWEVER A FEW days ago, Liza, for whom the doctor had prescribed vitamins, and her mother were in the bathroom, in the process of getting the first vitamin tablet down Liza.

This was a real tough job, as Liza is a modern, highly articulate child. She was determined not to take the pill and said so loudly and repeatedly the more her mother pleaded and threatened.

At the end of 10 noisy minutes, Liza still hadn't taken the pill. Then suddenly a disembodied voice, vibrant with power and authority filled the bathroom. In measured, awesome tones it said, "Liza, this is God. Take that pill!"

Liza looked at her mother, who nodded solemn affirmation. Liza took the pill without another word.

When Liza's mother wrote a letter of appreciation to the old gentleman, she received, in turn, a note that simply said, "I am always happy to be of service in emergencies."

MY SECOND STORY concerns an incident in the subway, where riders are supposed to be boorish, sullen troglodytes. But when a friend pushed her way into a crowded car, a Galahad offered her a seat. She protested politely, even as she was settling herself in the seat, that she did not want to force a tired man to stand up at the end of a long hard day.

"That's all right, lady," said this latter-day Lord Chesterfield as my friend leaned back comfortably, "that guy next to you on the right has a snake in his pocket and it was driving me nuts."

BILL RASHALL

Unedited

This is a story I have been wanting to write for more than a week. The delay in doing so was caused by a determination on my part to get the absolute facts. So here goes.

ASCAP, the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers which particularly includes that voluminous robed guardian angel of troubadours old and modern, is at the Wailing Wall with a definite break in its heart.

Remember, this is an organization which was created by some of the greatest composers of our times and whose songs we hear and sing today, like those written by Victor Herbert, Sigmund Romberg, Irving Berlin, Oscar Hammerstein, George Gershwin and many others.

I learned that if these great song composers were starting out today, they probably could not get a song published along Tin Pan Alley as that mythical passageway exists and operates today.

BELIEVE IT OR not, the song publishers of America have lost their chief function in a business which we believe is just about the cruelist heart breaker in the world.

My first authority for this statement is none other than the so-called "Dean of Tin Pan Alley," L. Wolfe Gilbert. I listened to him and George Simon, famed publisher of songs and owner of the Skylark Hotel and now the new Tranquilla Villa as well, discuss this situation which today may be:

"Depriving American of the finest music in the world."

L. Wolfe Gilbert ("please call me Wolfie," he begged) contended that the song publishers have lost their function to the recording companies, of which there exists today many, many of them. George Simon took the opposite view, contending that if a song is good it will be published even today.

LISTENING TO BOTH sides of the discussion I must go along with L. "Wolfie" Gilbert, because Simon conceded here and there during the hot but friendly debate that Gilbert was right. Right according to Gilbert, because:

"Unless you have enough money to give a recording company, no matter how good the music and lyrics are, there is no chance that song will ever be heard by the American public."

"I say right here and now that the songs of Sigmund Romberg, Irving Berlin, Oscar Hammerstein, Victor Herbert, George Gershwin and other great songs, and if you will pardon me, some of my songs, would never have been heard by the American public."

Wolfie insisted that you could walk into a recording plant today and show them a song and it wouldn't get to first base unless the composer or song publisher had the money—"a thousand, two thousand or maybe five thousand dollars before a recording would be made."

EARL WILSON:

$8,000,000 Deal

NEW YORK — I hear from the Rumor Factory that the new Toots Short Restaurant, to be built by the company that needs his site for a 60-story building, will be a thing of beauty — and also money. It'll eventually cost them $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 just to put up and launch this new dining-and-drinking palace for Toots, which is to be located not far from his present restaurant.

Besides building him a practically identical if somewhat larger and more luxurious eatery, they're reported to be willing to give Toots a downright vulgar amount of cash . . . and he's reported to be willing to take it. We who once called him "Crumbum" may now have to address him as "Sir Tews."

AVA GARDNER just had a friend in Italy buy some special shoes to give to Ernest Hemingway (whose "The Sun Also Rises" she'll star in). "Is there something unusual about Hemingway's feet?" I asked the man who made the purchase for Ava. "There sure is something unusual," he replied. "They're unusually big!"

Eddie Condon attended the wake for Tommy Dorsey. "Did you know he invented the breadline?" Eddie asked. I didn't. "For musicians," Eddie explained.

Bing Crosby's New York branch, pretty Mary Ellen Terry, the dancer and actress, told some friends that Bing denied he'd had other dates on his recent N.Y. visit. "How did he happen to deny it?" she said, echoing a question somebody asked her. "I happened to mention it to him. HAPPENED! I SCREAMED IT AT HIM!"

HENRY MORGAN flew to Detroit to visit singer Isobel Robbins at the London East restaurant, and while there visited Ford. Somebody asked him,

"PUBLISHERS?" questioned Gilbert "What chance do they have today? O.K., George Simon," Wolfie continued, "suppose I take a song to you, what will you do with it? Before you answer that, compare what you are doing today with the old days. The old days when a publisher could take a song he had published to a band, a famous singer or a songstress. You would have asked those people to plug that song, and if it was any good the American public would pick it up fast."

"That era is gone into the limbo of the past. Today, even you would have to take your songs first to a recording company. Maybe they would take one of them and the chances are ten to one unless you had the cash they wouldn't touch it."

George Simon didn't answer. He had acquiesced along the line of discussion with Wolfie and there wasn't an answer for Simon. That is, an answer which would completely refute Wolfie's reasoning and comprehension of the situation. But Simon still contended that if the song was good enough, among the many he might submit to a recording company one of them would be chosen.

BY HIS VERY statement, George Simon agreed that a sad state of affairs exists in Tin Pan Alley. Wolfie, the 60-year-old man referred to as the Dean of that fabled passageway, who has written some of the greatest tunes in America and is presently the West Coast director of ASCAP, PAINTED Tin Pan Alley with sour notes.

Later I was to meet with Sidney Claire in company with Pat O'Dea, whose mother was a great song writer too. Claire is the composer of "I'll Climb the Highest Mountain." He agreed that Wolfie was right. "You have to have the 'moala,'" he said, "to get a song on the market today." He went on from there to declare:

"During the past decade people used to sing from their hearts. Today they sing those songs that can be expressed with the hips if they are to become popular."

JUST IMAGINE, if Wolfie is right and I believe he is, what the music lovers of America would have missed in such songs as were written by Victor Herbert. This one comes to mind quickly: "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." The song of Sigmund Romberg, "The Desert Song." And all of the other songs.

What a topsy turvy world we live in and how twisted has Tin Pan Alley become? There used to be affection in our voices when we talked about this mythical street of songs.

I'm afraid I have lost my feeling for the kind of songs that Elvis Presley sings. Give me those deep heart throbs. Those merry waltzes. Those beautiful songs like "My Beautiful Lady." The music world thrives on cash hardened dollars, not just cash dollars.

There is a difference, you know.

"Aren't you on some panel show?" Henry replied, "That's right. My name is Dorothy Kilgallen." Henry then asserted he's studying French. "I often talk to myself," he said, "and French is a much more expressive language."

There's a "Whamburger" stand at Madison & 68th . . . Mama Gabor calls Madison Sq. Garden "Medicine Sq. Garden" . . . Cleo Moore's romance with Charles Simonelli seems to have cooled off and we suspect the poor child's lonely . . . "Don't Print That, You Rat!" — The big star of a show that never got to B'way was so alk-fried every show that the producer despaired. A fellow performer dined with him every night to try to keep him sober.

ARLENE DAHL SAT beside Rossano Brazzi and Earl Blackwell at Fernanda Monelli's closing at the St. Regis and boasted shamelessly of her husband Fernando Lamas' showing in the Ethel Merman show, "Happy Hunting." After watching him, she said, "I had to reapraise him and say, 'Is that really MY husband — or is that some matinee idol?'" (Some prophets say he'll be both).

Joe Cook, whose "Why I Won't Tell the One About the Four Hawaiians" is part of another era, is a devoted TV viewer from his wheel chair at Clinton Hollow, N. Y.

His wife, Alice Bolden, the gorgeous leading lady of "Fine and Dandy" back in the 30s, is his faithful nurse. Joe visited the other day by his straight man, Dave Chasen, now Hollywood's celebrated restaurateur said he especially watches George Gobel who in a way, is the Joe Cook of today.

Gobel, however, isn't stealing from Cook — for he's too young to have seen him at his peak.

IT WAS A SUNNY Sunday morning for the brunch given by Mrs. Owen Churchill, right, and Mr. and Mrs. Phimister Proctor at the Churchill home on San Lorenzo Road. The three hosts live in Los Angeles and came down to entertain their Palm Springs friends. (Desert Sun Photo)

Trio Host Big Brunch On Sunday

The sunny garden around the pool at the Churchill house on San Lorenzo Road, was the scene of a Sunday brunch given by Mrs. Owen Churchill and Mr. and Mrs. Phimister Proctor, who were entertaining their Palm Springs friends and both have apartments in Parklamb Towers in Los Angeles.

Jack Boyer's chuckwagon was set up poolside and serving those delicious blueberry hotcakes, scrambled eggs, sausages and bacon, and a tempting assortment of fresh fruits.

Among the guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Fred Albertson, John Luccarelli, Franklyn B. MacCarthy, Howard Morris, George Robertson, Dick Edwards, Edwin Fallgren, Oliver Jaynes, John Kenaston, Charles Becker, John McClure, Sam Taylor, W. B. Malouf, S. P. Manasse, George Wheeler, Harry Joe Brown, Harold Murphy, Harry Clatworthy, O. E. L. Graves.

Also Mrs. Churchill's sister Lu Fagan, Ray Shelby, the Perry Burnards of Borrego, Eric Barclays of Los Angeles, Clarence Neuners, Cliff Powers, Ray Jacobs, Roy Caughneys, Rex Shields, Doug Lanas, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrey, Mmes. Eleanor K. a. n. e, Grace Pope, Rose Chudacoff, Austin McManus, Mildred Jackson, and others.

Club Luncheon Is Tomorrow

A luncheon sponsored by St. Theresa Mothers Club will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Desert Inn.

All mothers are urged to attend and guests will be welcomed, Mothers Club officials said today. Those who do not have reservations are asked to call either 5651 or 3172. There will be baby sitting at the school for mothers with small children.

House of Tomorrow Tours Net Nearly $5000 for WAIF

Saturday, as the two weeks' tour of the House of Tomorrow, first benefit affair of the Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF, neared completion, the president Mrs. William B. Malouf announced that it is expected receipts will run close to $5000. With two days receipts to be added, and numerous blocks of tickets still unreported, the WAIF chapter has $3300 in the bank, Mrs. Malouf reported. Mrs. S. P. Manasse treasurer, reported that there are still 2500 tickets out.

The report was made Saturday at a luncheon at the Malouf home, when Mrs. Malouf was hostess to WAIF members who have acted as hostesses for the tours or have assisted in this first big WAIF benefit.

The next project for WAIF will be their membership drive. Memberships are $5 each and Mrs. Malouf said that they are open to all who are interested in assisting in this worthy cause. Mrs. Charles E. Becker and Mrs. P. A. Staley are co-chairmen of the membership committee.

WAIF plans two big charity events a year, and the second one will be a Ball, which is tentatively scheduled for March 9, with Mrs. Joseph Froggatt as general chairman.

In connection with the Ball, WAIF is preparing an album of Palm Springs, with each contributor to receive a free album the night of the Ball. Co-chairmen of the album project will be Mrs. Dolph Obergel and Mrs. Walter Braunschweiger. Picture costs

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Months may not be cheaper by the dozen . . . but that's the way they come . . . and this twelfth month of 1956 is a bargain at any price . . . with warm sunlit days . . . and cool starlit nights . . . There's a sparkle to December in Palm Springs . . . and we don't really need the Christmas trees in downtown store windows . . . to warn us that Christmas looms large on the horizon . . . Those who started their gift buying this past summer . . . and those who already have their cards addressed . . . are being pretty smug about the whole thing . . . and inveterate Christmas Eve shoppers . . . are having twinges of unease and not doing much about it . . . The weather's good . . . and there's tennis and golf . . . and other things to do . . . and twenty days to go . . .

This weekend crowd didn't compare with Thanksgiving week . . . but there were interesting things going on . . .

A group of Lido Islers who were dinner dancing at the Racquet Club Saturday night . . . were Ramona and Morrie Smith, Susie and Bit Landsdale, Sharon and Bob Lynch, and Morrie's brother Dick Smith and his wife Elaine . . . John Haskell was hosting a party which included Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horschner (he's the famed Madrid restaurateur) and Louis Vaudable, who owns Maxims in Paris . . . Interesting visitors at the Racquet Club were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Riachy of Beirut, Lebanon . . . who were down with Mrs. Skinnay Ennis . . .

Among early diners at The Dunes Saturday evening . . . were June Allyson and Dick Powell . . . who were admiring the new driftwood arrangement by Elrod . . . which decorates the north wall of Connie and Ruby's popular restaurant . . .

will range from $500 (or more) for front pages, down to $5 signatures, and the album is expected to become a "Who's Who" in Palm Springs.

In making her report Mrs. Malouf thanked all who had assisted in the House of Tomorrow tours and expressed her gratification at the tremendous success achieved. She announced that it has been agreed that a sizeable percentage of all WAIF proceeds will go to the Pathfinders, an organization of Palm Springs women, parent organization of the WAIFs. A non-profit organization, approved by Social Service, it will work for local underprivileged children. Its membership is almost synonymous with that of WAIF. One of its projects is a Thrift Shop, which it proposes to open later this season, probably in March.

Special guest at the Saturday luncheon was Gloria Greer, vice president of the Los Angeles Chapter of WAIF, and her mother Mrs. Lew Landers of Palm Desert. Others present at the luncheon were: Mmes. Joseph Pawling, whose husband designed and built the House of Tomorrow, Austin McManus, John Costello, Charles Farrell, John Kenaston, S. P. Manasse, Charles Becker, John Q. McClure, Oliver B. Jaynes, George Robertson, John Dawson, Maurice Horn, Don Bleitz, Edwin Fallgren, Russell Wade, George Wheeler, Herbert Burns, Ben Gale, Lloyd Frank, Harry Joe Brown, George Gannon, Edgar Schill, Misses Jan King, Beth Scott.

Dining at Don the Beachcomber Saturday night were . . . the George Hearsts . . . Eddie Cantor with his business manager . . . and Gita Alpar, the concert singer, with a party . . .

At the Ranch Club Saturday night was Scott Brady with New York TV actress Carol Brooks, and Manuel Alvarez . . . Also J. Fortune Ryan, recently arrived . . .

Doll House dining the other evening were . . . the Joe Pawlings, Bill Fosters and Bud Furrs . . . Weekending at Howard Manor . . . from Thursday to Monday . . . were Anita Ekberg and her husband Anthony Steele . . . Also at the Manor were TV star Brian Keith (he's in the "Crusader" show) and his wife . . .

The George Murphys, who are coming down weekends to their Smoke Tree Ranch home . . . entertained at a cocktail party Saturday night . . . The previous evening . . . the Bruce Burritts hosted a small cocktail pouring . . .

Joe Froggatt is in the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital . . . and Phyllis has gone in to be with him . . . He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Friday and will be hospitalized about 10 days . . .

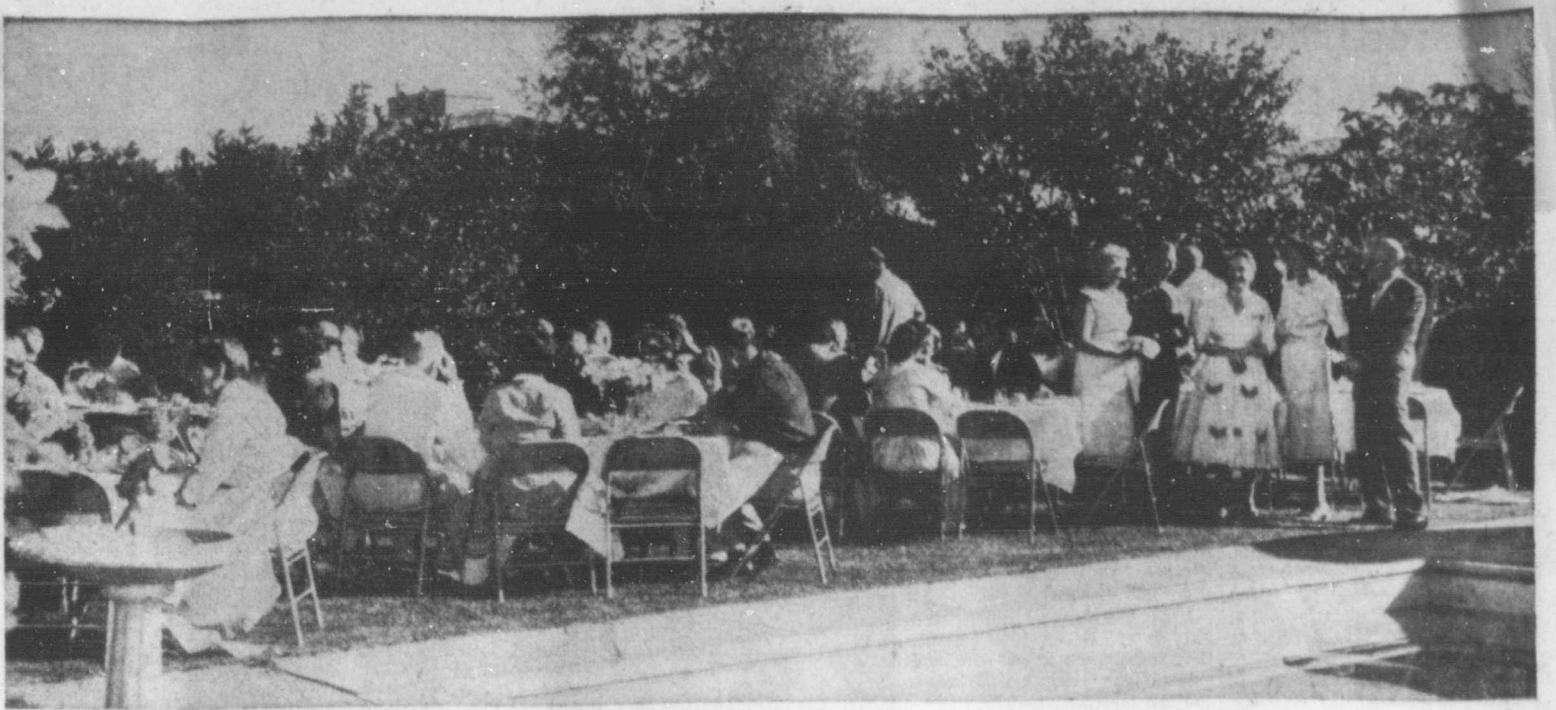

Rudy Halm (he's the big coat-dress hanger manufacturer) suffered a heart attack . . . while in Nashville on business . . . and Mrs. Halm flew east to be with him . . . The Halmes are new Villagers this year . . . with a home in Deep Well Estates . . .

Ruth and Ruloff Cutten (he's Cutten of Hutton and Co.) . . . have rented the Churchill house on San Lorenzo Road . . . and are expected around mid-January . . .

There will be a pre-Christmas fur fashion show . . . with Furs by Courtney . . . in the lounge at Thunderbird tomorrow afternoon at 5 . . . Both furs and gift items will be shown . . . and a set of mink golf covers will be given away as a door prize . . . The showing, for members and guests, is without charge . . .

Jan King told me Saturday that her brother-in-law Harold Wright was flying in from Duluth . . . with ideas about moving to Palm Springs . . . The ideas were implanted by his wife Pat and four children, Billy, Harriet, Linda and Jeff . . . who were here in September . . . and fell in love with Palm Springs . . . Harold (heir to three fortunes) is arriving with reservations . . . but will probably wind up like everyone else . . . He'll come . . . he'll see . . . and he'll be conquered . . . Let's hope so anyway . . . as this family would be a nice addition to the Village.

Listen to Hildy Crawford, Monday through Friday, at 11:30 a. m., on KDES, 920 on your dial.)

CLOSE TO EIGHTY guests enjoyed the Sunday morning brunch which was served poolside at the Churchill home on San Lorenzo road. Chuckwagon fare included Jack Boyer's famous blueberry hotcakes, served with fresh fruits, sausages and bacon and scrambled eggs . . . and it couldn't have been better brunch weather, with the noonday sun flooding the garden. Frances Ripley In Scripps Play

When the freshman class of Scripps College presented its annual convocation program this morning at 11 o'clock in Balch auditorium, Frances Ripley, daughter of the George Ripleys of Palm Springs, assisted in the production.

In a script written in rhyme, the entire freshmen class were "Gone Greeks." Directed and produced by Moira Moser of Laguna Beach, the cast of 28 presented a one act drama in which Homer answered his fan mail of the past 2000 years. Frances Ripley, a freshman at Scripps, previously attended Bishop's School in LaJolla.

Wedding Dinner

A small dinner party at the Ranch Club Saturday night honored the just-wed Mr. and Mrs. Lou Possner of Chicago. With them were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mayer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Buckley.

Host Dinner On Birthday

Lighted ceramic Santa Clauses, mechanical monkeys that beat tambourines, and flowers decorated their dinner table at the Racquet Club Saturday evening, when the Irvin Eisenbergs hosted a small party in celebration of his birthday.

Their guests were Dr. and Mrs. Jess Bueno, the Harold Murphys (they hastened back from Coachella, where she was installing officer for the Eastern Star installation), Mrs. Constance Roberts and Jake Murray.

Massed Choir to Present "The Messiah" on Sunday

SAN BERNARDINO — Encouraged by a highly acclaimed Redlands performance last Sunday, the 300-voice San Bernardino Valley Massed Choir will again present Handel's "The Messiah" this Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in Ralph E. Swing Auditorium at the National Orange Show where 7,000 can be accommodated.

Two dozen churches have crews working feverishly to complete the colorful floats on the life of Christ which will be featured in the first annual Junior Chamber Keep Christ in Christmas parade down "E" street to the National Orange Show beginning at 1:30 p. m. Sunday at 8th and "E" streets. In the line of march will be three choirs and two bands. Floats are to be transported on truck-trailers provided by Norton Air Force Base. Construction is localized at the Citrus Building at the Orange Show.

"The Messiah" is particularly suited to climax this emphasis since it too tells the life of Christ from the Old Testament prophecies of His birth through the accounts of His ministry, crucifixion and assumption.

George Frideric Handel's immortal oratorio will be directed by James K. Guthrie, executive vice president of The Sun-Telegram, who is leaving the active field of musical direction after a phenomenal career of 30 years. He began as a flutist at 12 and rose rapidly to fame as an orchestral and operatic conductor, having performed throughout the nation from the Hollywood Bowl and Greek Theater to Broadway. Soloists for the performance will be Edrie Sellnick (soprano), professor of voice and director of the University of Redlands opera workshop; Mrs. Jean Van Osdel (contralto), San Bernardino church vocalist; Burl Dean Smith (tenor), Redlands and Riverside opera singer; and Sam Van Ducen, Los Angeles church soloist and one of the southland's opera basses.

BIRTHS

Art Center to Continue With Lecture Series

The second in a series of fine art lectures will be held at the Desert Art Center in the old adobe building, 223 South Palm Canyon Drive, at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, December 6.

The lecture will be given by William Darling, well known motion picture art director and desert painter. Darling is a three time Oscar winner and also a home owner in the Village.

There will be no charge and the public is invited to attend.

Todds Returning To S.M. Club

Part of the Shadow Mountain Club family is returning on December 1. It's those perennial favorites, Art and Dotty Todd, who make such beautiful music together. The Todds helped to open Shadow Mountain Club nine years ago and have played returned engagements there for most of those nine years.

A Welcome Party is being staged for the couple on December 15. Already reservations are pouring in for this happy event.

6 Sunday Brunch Happy Affair At Ranch Club

With Trav Rogers as genial host and music by Johnny and Tani Boyle around 200 persons enjoyed the Sunday Brunch that is a regular weekly feature at the Ranch Club.

Clessa Williams and her new trio also pleased the audience, and Cliff Campbell, and Joy Rose, daughter of the Al Roses, both sang.

In the noonday crowd were the Earl Hendersons, Teddy Harts, Charles Mendelsons, Roy Randolphs, Dick Bagdasarians, Bill Codys, Lloyd Franks, Milton Josephs, Al Roses, and many, many more.

Murray Dancers In Demonstration

Recently Shadow Mountain Club members and guests enjoyed a sparkling show staged by the Palm Springs Arthur Murray Studio. Gordon and Ingrid Ayres, directors of Palm Springs and Riverside studios, brought a troupe of ten instructors who demonstrated the various dance to an awestruck crowd.

In addition to the colorful presentation guests participated in a dance contest which was very critically judged by the Arthur Murray group. To add to this popular evening of fun at Shadow Mountain Club the instructors invited the guests to be their dancing partners throughout the evening.

Socialite Weds Prince Of Hawaii

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Prince Keawe of Hawaii and his bride, American socialite-divorcee Jane Tomberlin, honeymooned today after a delayed wedding.

The couple were married Friday at the Antler's Hotel. They planned to honeymoon here for a few days before leaving for Honolulu and another wedding ceremony.

The two were to have been married in Denver Wednesday but the Prince said he was detained in Dallas, Tex., by a disapproving brother and important business, and was unable to make the wedding.

Mrs. Tomberlin held the "after wedding" reception Wednesday anyhow. She conceded publicly she was "damned mad" over the delay, but the scion of Hawaii's royal dynasty called her later and assured her of his love.

Reporters and photographers were not allowed to attend the ceremony, conducted by the Rev. Ben F. Lehnberg of the Colorado Springs First Methodist Church. After the wedding, Prince Keawe threw $10 in dimes out the window, explaining it was "an old Chinese custom."

Dinner Group

In the Saturday night dinner crowd at the Racquet Club were the Jerome Robinsons, Malcolm Clarks, and Senator and Mrs. Marshall Korshak of Illinois, who are at the Club for a fortnight's vacation.

The Springs, Destined to be A World Famous Restaurant Is Now Nearing Completion

It's taken a long time to build but when Cameron Center's first unit the $600,000 restaurant The Springs is completed, as it should be within the next fortnight, Palm Springs will have something worth waiting for.

Walt Disney has been to see it twice... and famed restaurateurs are marveling at this unique restaurant that combines beauty with streamlined efficiency, adding one more jewel to Palm Canyon Drive.

The Springs is destined to be world-famous. This is obvious even before it starts operation, for there's just nothing like it. Built of desert rocks, wood and with great expanses of glass, the plans on the drawingboard of William Cody AIA, have come to life to startling beauty. Everything is angular-lined, and every room is many-sided. It's custom made, with everything on the place especially designed and constructed just for The Springs.

In a carefully contrived but natural desert setting, the great restaurant affords glimpses of the mountains through its many glass walls.

The main entrance, one of several, is typical of the many unusual features. Here $1500 worth of lumber, in a "flying saucer" arrangement weighing more than a ton holds up the heavy glass doors.

Providing Palm Springs and the desert area with a new center of entertainment, the restaurant comprises a coffee shop that will seat 30 people, the five-sided Teak Room, which will be for men only until 6 p.m. and then is available for private parties, a sheltered garden and radiant-heated patio with waterfall and giant circular brazier, a bar room with Mexican coins inset in the curved bar, and the main dining room, which has glassed-in garden views and a waterfall and springs, in one corner of the big room.

The dining room, which will seat 90 persons, has hand-woven carpeting from Porto Rico. It has an irregular stripe in brown and white. It is all in one piece and is so big it took 24 men to carry it in and lay it.

The fireplace has real jewel turquoise inset in the base. The floor-to-ceiling face of it is of white glazed brick, set diagonally, and the copper painted steel hood is triangulated. The tables are of mahogany and walnut, laminated like a chopping board.

In other parts of the big sprawling building are terrazo floors and tiled walls, and three original murals by that noted Southern California artist Millard Sheets, who assisted Maurice Martine with the interior decorations. And, there is music piped throughout the many rooms.

Chief Emanuel Begin, formerly with Hilton at Arrowhead and at the new Beverly Hilton, will preside over the stainless steel kitchens that boast every modern convenience and are streamlined for utmost efficiency. The restaurant has its own bakery, and its baked goods will be on sale in the entry, and also in a retail outlet in the new Mayfair Market, which will adjoin the restaurant. The market will be the next unit constructed at Cameron Center, and the ground is already being leveled, with construction due to start sometime in January.

Allen Dale of the Villanova restaurant in Los Angeles, will operate The Springs. He has not yet announced his opening date, but has set December 14 as the date for a big press party, with members of the metropolitan press to be flown down here at that time.

This beautiful new restaurant, which George Cameron has built as the first unit of Cameron Center, underscores the saying that "Palm Springs is not a place... it's a way of life"... and life in Palm Springs gets better and better.

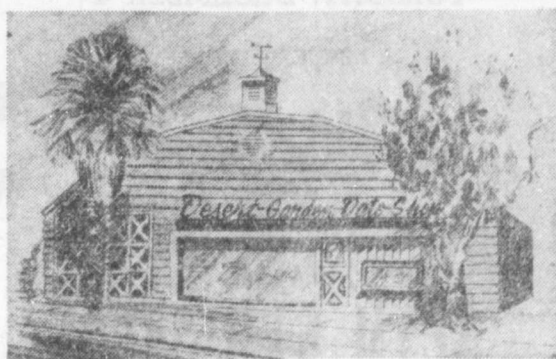

We have the largest and finest selection of children's wearing apparel in the Village. Come in and browse. You will like what you see.

House Tour Ends

Among the more than 500 persons who toured the House of Tomorrow, Sunday, for the final day of the WAIF-sponsored tours, was a group from Blue Skies Trailer Village including Rosemary Heath, the Harry Heaths, the Johnny Carsons, Cal Goodens, Mort Greenes, Bill, Prim and Henry Elsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Mustih Addis from Richmond, California, are visiting his brother Dr. and Mrs. Michael Addis of 752 Palo Verde Avenue. They will be here for two weeks.

Adams Buys
20 Acres, Plans
New Subdivision

John Adams, Bass Lake Realtor and sub-divider, has completed the purchase of 20 acres in the Panorama Ranch, located off Highway 111 in Palm Desert.

Adams and his wife, Irene, have many plans for the development of this property which they expect to put into effect immediately. The first subdivision consisting of 12 lots and zoned for multiple income will get underway this week. John Outcault has been selected as architect for the homes and duplexes to be erected on the new development, and Welcome-White, Real Estate firm in Palm Desert Center, through whom the property was purchased, will be the exclusive agents.

Lamont Ends
Gift Buying Trip

Stephen Lamont of Stephen's Gifts, has returned from a two day buying trip into Los Angeles, to complete the Christmas gift line for his shop in Center, which is Palm Desert's only exclusive gift shop.

He and his wife, Ruth, had as houseguest last weekend, Susy Wolfe of Detroit.

'Golddigger' Talk
Set for Gem,
Mineral Society

"Why I am a Golddigger" will be the subject of a talk by Liane Poates at the meeting of the Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral Society at the Palm Desert Community Church at 8 p. m., Dec. 7.

Anyone desiring to know what the lady means is invited to attend, according to Mrs. Gerald (Buzz) Kiefer, program chairman. Originally from Prague, Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Poates was smuggled out of Vienna just before the Nazis took over Austria. It is expected that she will tell of some of her experiences in the course of her lecture.

At 6 o'clock members and friends will enjoy a chicken "pot-luck," for which occasion Henry Escher's musical aggregation will be on hand. Included on the program will be a "Mineral I. Q." quiz which promises much merriment.

Hale's Men's Shop
Opening Success

Natalie and Ralph Hale of Hale's in Palm Desert, report a very gratifying opening last week in their Patio shop, which is the first Boy's and Men's Wearing Apparel shop to open between Palm Springs and Indio.

"Dozens of friends, customers and well-wishers saw our opening announcement in the Desert Sun," said Ralph Hale today, "and poured in from Palm Springs, Indio and the entire desert area."

Mr. Hale reports that he will be alone in the shop for the next few days as Mrs. Hale was forced to leave town on business shortly after the store opened.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caplinger spent last weekend in Beverly Hills with their son and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schweifler, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Markley for the past two weeks, departed yesterday for their home in Yosemite Valley.

Harold Tracey, who has been a desert resident for years but now lives in Santa Barbara, was here for a week seeing all his old friends. His son, Jerry Tracy, is established in business here.

Mr. Ruby Anderson, who is very well known here, has opened a new business establishment in the Marston Building on Highway 111, called the Slim Gym Salon. She also has steam baths. The building is new, her equipment, and furnishings are new and Mrs. Anderson invited old and new friends to see it.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Allen spent the week end in their Sun Lodge. Mrs. Allen is remaining a few days to supervise painting and re-decorating.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shutz, celebrated their forty-seventh wedding anniversary with a small dinner

Rancho Mirage

By JEAN PATANE
Vivian Page has returned to her home in Beverly Hills after a few days of swimming and sunning at Desert Air Hotel. With friends she visited Shadow Mountain Club and the interesting spots in and around Palm Springs. Miss Page is secretary treasurer of Los Angeles Pianist Breakfast Club, and is currently appearing at Flintridge Inn, as a song stylist playing her own piano accompaniment. She has had her own T. V. show and was formerly with the New York Light Opera Guild, and Musical comedy.

Lillian Randall, manager of The Children's Corner, was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday buffet supper hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Collins at their Rancho Mirage home. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Al Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brenton and John Critchlow. The Collins daughter, Mary, baked the surprise birthday cake.

Connie Van De Walker was in Calexico last weekend visiting with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt. She was accompanied by her father, D. D. Weddell, of Seattle, Wash., who is spending the winter with another daughter, Maxine Okerlund of Okerlund's Desert Vendome Restaurant in Indio, who reported the most tremendous Holiday business in the eight years they have owned the popular dining spot.

Preceding the Chamber of Commerce Dance last Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith had as their dinner guests Marcelle De Vinna and Russell Vis.

Among the guests at the Smith's B-Glad Manor are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Whipple of San Francisco, Mrs. J. C. Ryan of Butte, Mont., Miss Marjorie Ryan of New York and Mr. and Mrs. H. Seckler and family of Van Nuys, and returning to their Beverly Hills home after the weekend were Mrs. Smith's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Cherry.

Adding to their laurels, Dorothy and Ralph Dietz have completed the interior decoration of the Allen T. Archer home in Palm Desert. Mr. Archer is owner of Archer Insurance Company of Los Angeles. Most of the accessories in the contemporary home are from Dietz Designs.

Five students from Rancho Mirage are members of the sixty voice choir of the Nellie Coffman Junior High School: Sarah Ann Nitchy, who is an accomplished pianist and a member of "Madrigal," Mary Collins, Linda Sue Ketchersid, John Collins, whose family recently moved to Rancho Mirage, and Arya Jean Lea, who was chosen for "Triple Trio," a nine voice singing group, and musical comedy stage.

Chamber Dance For Building Fund Success

One of the highlights of the season was the Chamber of Commerce Western Dance held at the Desert Air Hotel for the benefit of the building fund of the proposed Chamber of Commerce building that will also be available for civic affairs.

Co-chairman Les Yoximer and Mrs. Mildred Svaboda extend their sincere thanks to the business people for their generous contributions, and their gratitude to all whose cooperation and enthusiasm made this first annual affair an overwhelming success.

Attendance was representative of the entire area, Palm Desert, Cathedral City and beyond.

The lounge and Bamboo Room were filled to capacity with friends and neighbors dancing to the music of Chuck Travis' Trio, and being entertained throughout the evening by Ben and Fern Scott, Carl Hanson and Doris Krause, Frank and Roberta Glass, and Frank and Ann Cunningham, who presented a smooth and fascinating sequence of square and round dances.

Popular Jack Boyer was featured with his guitar and western songs, and some old favorites with audience participation and Vivian Page of the New York light opera

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

MELBOURNE (AP)—Shapely Mrs. Pat McCormick shook water out of her taffy-colored hair and regarded the results of the springboard diving with satisfaction.

"This one and the high board I want," she said as she contemplated her Olympic aspirations. "Then I'm going to call it a career off the boards."

Mrs. McCormick is the Lakewood, Calif., housewife who was favored to win both the springboard and platform diving championships in the international games for her second sweep of these events.

She is what pool-side observers call "well-stacked," hardly appearing like the mother of a small child with her compact 128 pounds poised on the edge of the board.

FOR THE 26-YEAR-OLD housewife is one of the most outstanding athletes in Uncle Sam's Olympic contingent. So great is her proficiency off the board or the tower that she holds 27 national diving championships and has lost only twice in her headline career.

Her greatest performance up to now has been that sweep at Helsinki in 1952 when she overpowered the best the world could send against her. There, in the scenic outdoor pool in a little pine forest, she won the springboard with 147.3 points for 10 dives and then took the platform dive with 79.37 points.

Her closest competition, after the springboard is completed, will be Paula Jean Myers and Mrs. Juno Stover Irwin, who has three children. Both are Americans, and Mrs. McCormick explains it like this:

"The main reason American women have been able to dominate the diving is that we dive like men, and against men, in practice. The men do more difficult dives than women usually do, so that in competition the American girls wind up making more difficult and therefore higher-scoring dives when it comes to a choice."

IN THE TOWER, her top competition figures to be Miss Myers, the pretty University of California student who was second in the 1952 Olympics, and Mrs. Irwin, another California who was third.

"You have to work hard to stay on top," Mrs. McCormick explained. "Getting ready for the Olympics, my husband and I made baby-sitters out of our parents. We drove 25 miles every morning to Long Beach to use the tower and every afternoon after a hasty bite of lunch used the springboard at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. It was difficult sneaking in housework in the evening."

So after this one, pretty Pat is calling it quits.

"I want to spend my time at home with our child," she explained. "But it would be nice to go out with those two medals."

The odds were that she will, too.

Desert Produce Leads Bowlers

Desert Produce continued to cling to the lead in the Mixed Four League which plays every Monday night at the Palm Springs alleys.

Last night they won the high team series with 1827 and the high team game with 645.

K. W. Williams won the men's high individual series with 494 and D. D. Paul took high individual game honors for men with 183.

In the women's division, Doty Martine had the high individual series with 18 and Betty Oistad, high game with 180.

Standing of the teams at the end of the 10th week of play is:

INDIANS MEET BRAWLEY TO START CAGE SEASON

Coach Alfred Kazmier will lead his 1956 Palm Springs Indian basketball squad into its first action of the year Saturday in the local gymnasium when they entertain Brawley high school. Both Varsity and B squads will see action.

Oregon State Has Eight Places on All-Coast Squad

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tackle John Witte of Oregon State, who gained a first team berth on the United Press All-American team last week, breezed into the same spot on the U.P. All-Pacific Coast eleven which was announced today.

Joining his teammate on the first string was halfback Earnel Durden. All told, Coach Tommy Prothro's Rose Bowl-bound team won a total of eight spots on the 33-man All-Coast squad.

Stanford dominated the first team by taking three positions. Paul Wiggin joined Witte as the other half of the tackle combination, quarterback John Brodie won the signal calling job and end Carl Isaacs became the third Indian to join the starting lineup.

Wiggin and Brodie also made the U.P. All-American second team this year.

Southern California posted two men in the first eleven, halfback Jon Arnett and fullback C. R. Roberts. Arnett was named to the U.P. All-American third team this year although restricted to five games as the result of last summer's conference probe.

Bill Steiger, Washington State's great passgrabber, was named to the other end spot on the All-Coast first team. A fellow player from the Northwest, Dick Day of Washington, took over one guard spot and Galen Laack of College of the Pacific won the other. Day is a transplanted tackle.

Jim Matheny of UCLA was named first string center.

Folley, Bethea to Meet in TV Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweights Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., and Wayne Bethea of New York were rematched today for another TV 10-rounder on Jan. 14 at St. Nicholas Arena, where Folley won a one-point, split decision over Bethea Monday night.

Folley, in his New York debut, was very impressive in the early rounds with his solid left hooks and solid right counters; but he ran out of gas in the later going and barely salvaged his sixth straight victory.

Wins Disputed Nod

PARIS, France (AP)—Dulio Loi of Italy, the European lightweight champion, scored an unpopular 10-round decision over young Felix Chiozza Monday night in a non-title bout. Loi weighed 136 pounds; Chiozza, 137.

Adds Another Gold Medal to Total for U.S.

Russians Cutting U.S. Lead in Minor Events at Olympiad

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor

MELBOURNE (AP)—Patricia McCormick of Lakewood, Calif., rallied hard-pressed U.S. Olympic forces in the team race with Russia tonight by winning the springboard diving championship for the second straight time.

The victory by the 26-year-old housewife, who won both the springboard and tower dives at Helsinki in 1952, gave the United States its 29th gold medal of the current games and set up a 1-2 finish by American diving beauties.

Blonde June Stunyo of Gary, Ind., was second, and Irene McDonald of Canada third.

THE AMERICAN POINT haul came at a time when the Russians had closed the gap to within 21 1/2 points of the U.S. total with two gold medals in shooting and a few other scattered points during the day.

Despite the 1-2 finish by the American girls, Russia gained 11 points in the unofficial team race and cut the U.S. lead to 37 1/2 points. At the end of tonight's competition, the United States had 490 points, Russia had 452 1/2 and third place Australia had 183 1/2.

Earlier in the evening, Murray Rose of Australia dealt the Yanks a severe blow by winning the 400-meter freestyle race in the Olympic record time of four minutes, 27.3 seconds. George Breen of Buffalo, N.Y., America's gold medal hope, finished third behind Tsuyoshi Yamanaka of Japan.

Mrs. McCormick, wife of the U.S. diving coach and the mother of one child, thus completed the third leg of an unprecedented double sweep of Olympic titles. No diver in Olympic history ever has won two gold medals in two Olympiads but the shapely Californian now is an odds-on favorite to do it by winning the tower dive Friday night.

FOR A WHILE, it appeared there'd be a 1-2-3 American finish in the springboard dive. Miss McCormick had trouble on her second dive tonight when she missed the board on her first approach and had to restart. She drew a poor 6.60 points and dropped back to fourth place, crying bitter tears.

That allowed the svelte Miss Stunyo to move into second place and she wouldn't be dislodged. She wound up with the silver medal.

Mr. McCormick, fattening her lead on every dive, compiled a total of 142.35 points in a performance hailed as one of the finest exhibitions of springboard diving ever seen.

She won by a wide margin over Miss Stunyo, who ended with 125.89 points. The Canadian girl had a total of 121.40.

Australia grabbed three of the first six places in the 400-meter free style in another amazing exhibition of speed.

ALL THREE U.S. swimming entrants in the men's 100-meter backstroke and the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team advanced in trial heats in the afternoon.

Defending champion Yoshinobu Oyakawa of Honolulu, world recordholder Al Wiggins of Pittsburgh and 18-year-old Frank McKinney of Indianapolis qualified among the final 16 for Wednesday's backstroke semi-finals as Australia's John Monckton set a new Olympic record of 1:03.4.

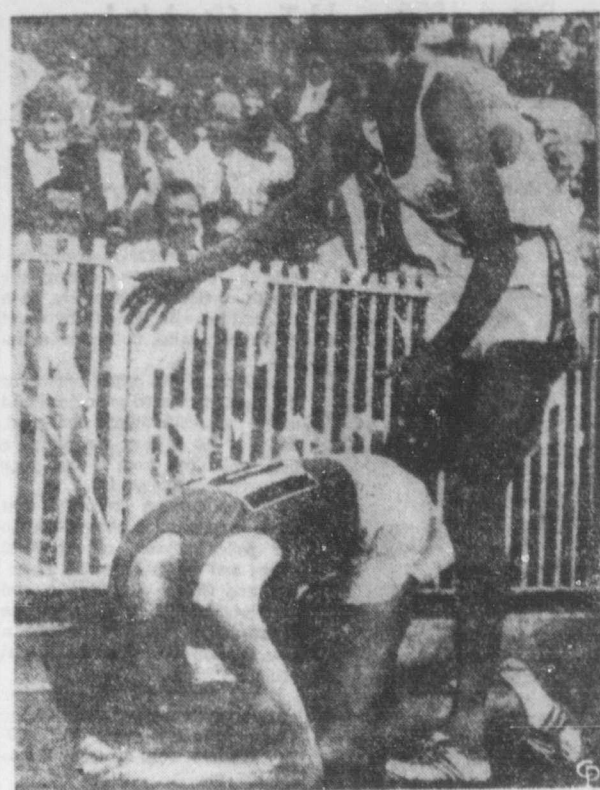

The women's 400-meter freestyle relay team with Betty Brey and Kathryn Knapp of Chevy Chase, Md., Nancy Simons of Belvedere, Calif., and Marley Shriver of Glendale, Calif., qualified for the final with a second place finish to South Africa in its heat. Miss Knapp will be replaced by freestyle star Shelley Mann in the final.

BAY CITY POLOISTS WIN OVER DESERT AIR, 11-5

San Francisco Polo Team scored an easy 11 to 5 victory over the Desert Air Polo Team, but only through the efforts of Bob Smith in the second half.

The hot team Sunday afternoon at Desert Air was leading up to the halftime, and then Smith took over, leading his team to victory. Also harrising for the winners was Todd Helster.

In Saturday's Round Robin at the Shadow Mountain Club's arena field, Shadow Mountain and San Bernardino emerged in a 4 to 4 net goal tie. San Francisco was third with two net goals.

Next Friday at Desert Air Hotel, San Francisco will meet Desert Air. On Saturday, a Round Robin will be played at Shadow Mountain between San Francisco, Desert Air and La Jolla, and on Sunday the action will return to Desert Air with La Jolla and Desert Air as the opponents.

The San Francisco squad will leave here following the Saturday play to compete against a Southern California team in an exhibition benefit for Muscular Dystrophy at Long Beach.

Sproule Denies UCLA to Appeal For Withdrawal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Robert Gordon Sproule of the University of California has emphatically denied a published report that UCLA will appeal to the regents in a move to withdraw from the Pacific Coast Conference.

According to the report, Sproule told Cancellor Raymond B. Allen of UCLA that the branch school could not withdraw from the conference and Allen then said he would appeal to the regents.

"That story is categorically untrue and completely false," Sproule said. "And I know that Dr. Allen will confirm what I say."

Meanwhile, Frank Bow tie Walsh, a Bay Area radio sports commentator, predicted that Southern California would apply "within the next six months" to withdraw from the PCC in order to join the Southwest Conference.

Walsh, basing his prediction on sources close to the USC picture, said USC is a Methodist school and wishes to join a conference with other denominational institutions such as Southern Methodist and Texas Christian.

Tigers Land Finigan, Plan New Deals to Bolster Squad

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, shooting to "win it all" in 1957, were planning another deal today after landing "prize-catch" Jim Finigan in an eight-player trade with Kansas City.

"Finigan could be the whole answer to our infield problem," said Jack Tighe, the new manager of the Tigers. "But that doesn't mean we're through dealing. We could use another pitcher to go along with Billy Hoelt, Frany Lary and Paul Foytack."

The 28-year-old Finigan, who can play either third or second base, came to the Tigers along with first baseman Eddie Robinson and pitchers Ed Blake and Bill Harrington plus cash from the Athletics Monday. In exchange, Detroit turned over pitchers Ned Garver, Virgil Trucks and Gene Host and first baseman Wayne Belardi.

The deal was the first consummated at the annual minor league meetings, but another was reported on tap between the Washington Senators and the Chicago White Sox, who are interested in third baseman Eddie Yost.

"We're going to give Finigan a crack at the third base job," Tighe said. "And move Ray Boone over to first base. If Finigan works out all right at third—and we certainly think he will—we can have both Boone and Robinson available for first base."

Oklahoma's Sooners Voted College Football Champions For Second Consecutive Year

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Oklahoma's slick Sooners, who crushed every rival in sight and piled up a modern record of 40 consecutive victories, were voted the 1956 national college football champions today by the United Press Board of Coaches.

This marked the second consecutive season and the third time in the past seven years that Coach Bud Wilkinson's men were voted the honor.

Twenty-six of the 35 leading coaches, whose weekly ratings have become recognized as the most authoritative in college football, picked Oklahoma tops in the final ballot of the season. Five others voted for second-ranked Tennessee, three for third-ranked Iowa, and one for sixth-ranked Miami, Fla. Oklahoma's point-total of 337 was just 13 short of a perfect score.

WILKINSON AND the Sooners will be presented the United Press national championship trophy on the nationally televised Ed Sullivan show over the Columbia Broadcasting System next Sunday night, between 8 and 9 p.m. EST.

In sweeping through their third consecutive perfect season, the Sooners averaged 46.6 points for their 10 games and also set a major college rushing record by averaging 391 yards per game.

During the 11 weeks of the season, Oklahoma was out of first place only once, when it yielded to Michigan State in the Oct. 24 ratings.

In addition to their 26 first-place votes, the Sooners received seven for second-place, one for third and one for fifth. With points distributed on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for a second, and so on down to one for a 10th place vote, Oklahoma had 337 of a possible 350 points.

RUNNERUP TENNESSEE, also unbeaten and untied in 10 games, had 301 points, and once-beaten Iowa had 247. After that came

Injury to Brown To Hamper Dons In Victory Quest

By HENRY RIEGER
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Injury to Gene Brown, which will put him on the bench for "three to four weeks," today became the focal point in the University of San Francisco's efforts to keep alive its national record win string.

Brown, who keyed the Dons to their 57th consecutive victory Saturday in a rugged 7 to 5 win over California, fractured his left hand in the closing minutes of play—an injury that was not disclosed until Monday.

San Francisco, national champions the past two years, meet San Francisco State Friday and Seattle Saturday. It's the latter game which concerns Coach Phil Woolpert.

The Dons should whiz by State without Brown and despite the annual threat of State Coach Dan Farmer to "upset" the Dons. But Saturday at Seattle is a different story.

State Traffic Control Plans Told Council

Recontrol of traffic at South Palm Canyon Drive-Indian Avenue-Camino Parocela was outlined to the City Council yesterday in a letter from Loren Moore, district traffic engineer of the Division of Highways.

Under the new plan, no left turns will be permitted from Palm Canyon Drive onto Camino Parocela, and this street will become a one way thoroughfare for one block, to westbound traffic only.

This, together with future installation of traffic signals at the intersection within the near future, will complete traffic control there. Other signals are planned for the intersections of Ramon Road and Indian, at Sunrise and Ramon, and at Tamarisk and Indian.

The city asked that more signs be installed at the east and south intersection-triangle of Palm Canyon Drive, and that the south side of the triangle in front of the Palm House be striped with a double line.

Moore said in his letter to the city that intersection was "signed" sufficiently, but that the state would stripe the section of road, allowing egress and ingress from both directions.

Nixon Helped GOP Ticket, State Chairmen Report

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington — The grass roots consensus is that Vice President Richard M. Nixon did not hurt the Republican ticket in last month's election, but helped it.

The United Press asked Republican state chairmen for their estimate of the vice president's impact on the voters. They reported, generally, that it was good.

There is other evidence that Nixon's presence on the Republican presidential ticket was not the political calamity some politicians predicted or hoped it would be.

Harold E. Stassen, for example, warned President Eisenhower and the Republican Party that Nixon would cost the ticket some six percent of the expected vote.

MAYBE SO, ALTHOUGH Stassen, in the end, was right up there on the platform at the Republican National Convention, publicly withdrawing his opposition to Nixon's renomination. If Nixon cost Mr. Eisenhower any votes, it would be difficult to say where and how many.

Republican chairmen in big key states were especially impressed by Nixon's campaign contribution. For example: Massachusetts Chairman Ralph H. Bonnell said Nixon was "definitely an asset in Massachusetts," adding that "the net result of Nixon's appearance was good, and we would have like to have had him here in Boston for the election eve windup-with or without like."

MICHIGAN CHAIRMAN John Felkens said Nixon was "of tremendous assistance in helping to influence the vote and stir up interest so the voters would go to the polls."

New Jersey Chairman Samuel L. Bodine said the vice president made "a very important contribution to the success of the campaign in New Jersey," explaining that he meant both for the national and congressional candidates.

New York Chairman L. Judson Morehouse rated Nixon "an asset to the ticket on a statewide basis."

OHIO CHAIRMAN Ray C. Bliss, also chairman of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Association of Republican State Chairmen, said Nixon was "tremendously helpful to the entire ticket in Ohio."

Pennsylvania Chairman George I. Bloom called Nixon's early October appearance in the state "a definite turning point."

Texas Chairman John Q. Adams said, "Texas was really doubtful until Nixon came into the state. After he arrived, you could sense the increased support of the Republican ticket."

West Virginia Chairman John D. Hoblitzell Jr. said "we think Nixon helped us a great deal in generating enthusiasm among the young voters and building confidence in the party organization."

Traffic Mishaps Jump in Village During October

A sharp increase in traffic accidents was shown during the month of October, according to a report filed with the city by Chief of Police August C. Kettmann today.

Analysis of the crime report for the month indicated some good and some bad, with among the good, thefts of $50 or over recording a noticeable drop from 17 last year to seven for October 1956.

Chief Kettmann reported that three persons have been added to the police payroll, officer Neal Green and clerks Roseanne Tometic and Grace Weatherford, and one resignation, Norma Crann. The department took delivery of a new motorcycle and an additional vehicle.

Drunk arrests hit 33 in October of this year compared with 26 the same month last year. All traffic violations went up from 323 to 378 last month.

The department held in custody for a total of 10 days seven county prisoners, an interrogated eight juvenile prisoners. The police tallied 33 lost reports and 15 found items.

Malicious mischief reports were listed at eight, with no arrests. There was one arrest each for impersonating an officer, reckless driving and resisting arrest, defrauding an innkeeper, and failure to register as an ex-con.

Bank Interest Raise Okehed

WASHINGTON — The government has authorized federally insured commercial banks as of Jan. 1 to raise the interest rates they pay on savings accounts from 2 1/2 to 3 percent a year.

An informed source said the step was taken to "encourage savings" and hence build up the amount of money banks have on hand to lend for investment purposes.

The source noted that the demand for investment funds in today's "tight money" market is "greatly in excess of saving."

The interest rate increase was authorized by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. The increase is not mandatory, however, and officials would make no estimate on how many of the nation's 13,208 federally insured banks will raise their rates.

CHECK

THEY WERE TOLD that the couple was living at the Palm Springs address, same as appeared on the checks, and the storekeeper would call the address and ask for Mrs. Green. The other couple, at the house, would answer the call and identify themselves as a butler or maid and tell the caller that Mrs. Green had leased her home to Louis P. Goble. All checks except the rent check were drawn on a local bank.

L. White checked the North Hollywood address and found that the real Louis Goble is an engineer at Lockheed Aircraft and that the driver's license had been stolen. All checks were forgeries.

BECAUSE OF THE banks being closed during the weekend, it was impossible for storekeepers to check on the account. The local check warning system could not be put into use until yesterday morning when the Desert Bootery notified police that it was holding a bad check written by Goble, and was told by the bank that there was no account in that name.

Police went immediately to 455 Camino Norte, and found that the two couples and three children had left Sunday night.

POLICE HAVE PUT out an all-points-bulletin for the apprehension of a male, white, adult, 27-years-old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, 140 pounds, blond curly hair; and his companion, female, white, adult, assumed to be his wife, 38-years-old, 150 pounds, heavy build, red hair, a chain smoker. The couple is believed to be driving an old Oldsmobile or Pontiac.

Officer Thomas Aitken is currently in charge of investigation.

Douglas MacArthur II Named Japan Ambassador

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga., — President Eisenhower today selected as the new U.S. ambassador to Japan Douglas MacArthur II, State Department counselor and nephew of the famous World War II commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

MacArthur was selected by recess appointment, subject to later Senate confirmation, to succeed John M. Allison who will return to Washington for reassignment. Both MacArthur and Allison are career men in the State Department who are rotated periodically in their jobs.

THE NEW AMBASSADOR was expected to take over his post in Tokyo sometime in February. Allison actually will continue as envoy until that time.

The name MacArthur has long been famous in Japan and the rest of the Orient. The general, now in retirement as chairman of the board of Remington Rand, served as allied commander in the Far East during World War II. He remained to command the occupation of Japan and was supreme allied commander of forces in the Korean War until summarily removed from his post in March, 1951, by the then President Truman.

THE NEW ENVOY has a long record in the State Department. The 47-year-old diplomat and native of Pennsylvania has been department counselor, and advisory and policy post, since March 1953.

Smog Reduced 10 Per Cent in L.A.

LOS ANGELES, — The Air Pollution Control District claimed today that the enforcement of anti-smog laws had reduced the smog in Los Angeles County by more than 10 percent during the past fiscal year.

New controls on industry, a ban on open burning and less use of backyard incinerators were credited in an APCD's annual report with the reduction.

It was estimated that control measures had brought about the elimination of 300 to 400 tons of pollution a day out of a total of 3,500 tons.

Parents Offer Son's Slayer $1,000 for 'Site'

LOS ANGELES, — A San Francisco couple has offered to give $1,000 to Stephen Nash, confessed slayer of five persons, if he will disclose the location of their son's watery grave, police here said today.

Officers said the parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Eche, made the offer Monday after Nash identified a photograph of their son, Robert Eche, 22, as the San Francisco murder victim he shoved into the ocean last August.

Nash said Eche's car was pushed into San Francisco Bay and he would be able to lead police to the spot.

EARLIER NASH refused to give any details of the slaying unless he was given $1,000.

The suspect told officers he met Eche in an Oakland streetcar terminal and drove around in the victim's car for a couple of hours. He said Eche told him he worked for a big company for $62 a week.

"I got so mad when I thought of a smart fellow like that working for such a small wage that I knew I had to kill him," police said Nash confessed.

"I stabbed him eight or nine times in the chest and throat. I took his wallet and watch and I shoved the car into the ocean."

NASH HAS ALSO confessed the murders of four other persons, including 10-year-old Larry George Rice, Venice, whose slashed body was found last Thursday beneath the Santa Monica pier.

The other murders admitted by Nash were the stabbing death of John William Berg, 26, hair stylist student, in Long Beach Nov. 27; the bludgeoning of James Burns near Hayward last January; and the murder of a hitchhiker named Floyd Leroy Barnett in the Sacramento area two months ago.

A new federal grade of beef—U.S. standard—went on sale June 1, 1956. Grades now are prime, choice, good, standard, commercial and utility.

Book Writing Gourmet Continues Search for Perfect Steak, Martini

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D.C. — When you have lunch with Maurice Dreicer, you might as well plan on taking the whole day off.

Maurice is a gourmet who makes a fancy living out of being fussy about his steaks and his drinks. My friend was here to attend a meeting of international hotel men. He knows considerable about dining around the world. He has put his nose to the grindstone in 12,000 eateries, good and bad. And you can't mention a country he hasn't supped in.

Mostly, he looks for the perfect steak which, he claims, isn't to be found outside his own home. Having set tooth to some of the great man's cooking, I would be willing to give odds that you couldn't find a better steak any place.

MAURICE, OF COURSE, never has found the perfect steak. I have a suspicion that he hopes he never will. He runs around handing out solid gold butter knives to chefs who come up with near misses.

But to get back to having lunch with the man who has grown a little plump from eating rich food. And writing books about same.

When he orders, he specifies just how the martini is to be made. Not shook up, just stirred, and no olives, please.

"An olive," he says, "gives a man the hiccoughs and doesn't give a martini anything that it didn't have before it was dumped in the glass."

Nehru Forced to Admit Error in Support of Russia's Action in Hungary, Now Terms It 'Popular Upheaval'

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Prime Minister Nehru of India has been forced to make what must have been a painful change in his attitude toward the Hungarian revolt.

He started out by trying to justify the savage Soviet Russian suppression of the rebellion. Now he has got around to condemning it.

It has long been noted that Nehru's policy usually inclines toward approval of Russia's actions and denunciation of the Western democracies when West-East differences arise.

IN THE UNITED Nations, India voted along with Russia on resolutions concerning the Hungarian revolt.

Red army crushed the Hungarian revolt.

Nehru spared no words in his criticism of the British-French attack. That was to be expected.

But he shocked even members of his own Indian Congress Party when he defended the bloody Soviet offensive against Hungarian patriots.

It developed that Nehru had accepted, without question, a version of the Hungarian blood-bath which had been sent to him by Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin in a letter.

But since then, Nehru has been pulling back. It is evident that he realized he had gone too far in his Moscow-slanted neutralism.

In a speech on Nov. 19, Nehru said:

"The fact is that the Soviet army is in Hungary against the wishes of the Hungarian people . . . the majority of the people want freedom and withdrawal of the Soviet troops. That is a basic fact which no one can deny."

By Monday, Nehru had made a complete switch. He rejected Communist claims that the Hungarian revolts was a reactionary coup.

"IT WAS UNDOUBTEDLY a popular upheaval directed against Soviet forces sent there," Nehru told his parliament in New Delhi.

Ezio Pinza Recovering

GREENWICH, Conn. (U-P)—Operatic and musical comedy star Ezio Pinza was reported in "satisfactory" condition today after suffering his second heart attack in three months.

The 64-year-old former opera basso, who became a middle-aged matinee idol by singing "Some Enchanted Evening" in the Broadway musical "South Pacific," was stricken with a coronary occlusion Monday in the dining room of his home at Stamford.

An ambulance took Pinza to Stamford Hospital but was sent here because that hospital was full.

The silver-haired singer, regarded as one of the finest basses ever to sing at the met, suffered his first heart attack in his native Italy in September.

Coffee Prices Drop, Drinking Due to Increase

NEW YORK (U-P)—Coffee wholesalers predicted today recent price reductions will increase consumption of America's favorite beverage even beyond present peaks.

Record world coffee production forced the cost of green coffee down and enabled roasters to announce Monday cuts of two to four cents a pound on wholesale prices.

The reduction in coffee prices, which have been ranging from 87 cents for some chair store brands to $1.23 a pound for Chock Full O'Nuts, will be reflected in the family budget in a week or two.

Select Jurors In Mrs. Latham Kidnapping Case

SAN DIEGO (U-P)—Selection of a jury continued today in the trial of two women accused of kidnaping and attempting to murder wealthy Mrs. Ruth Latham.

Four prospective jurors were excused Monday as the trial of Mrs. Beatrice V. Winn, 57, Bonita, and Mrs. Lucille Whisenand, 36, a former U.S. Customs employ at San Ysidro, got under way before Superior Judge John A. Hewicker.

Mrs. Latham, wife of a local realtor, charged that the two women drove her at knifepoint to an isolated desert area in the Imperial Valley.

Japanese Lovers Leap Into Crater in Suicide Try

MOTOMURA, Japan (U-P)—A farmer who leaped into a smoking volcano clasped in the arms of his childhood sweetheart was found gasping for life today on the edge of the crater.

Tsuneaki Nakajima, 29, and Yoshiko Onikata, 26, exchanged a final kiss and leaped together into Mr. Mihara's "suicide volcano" Monday in an attempt to dissolve an unhappy love triangle.

Nakajima has a wife and child in Gumma Prefecture, Yoshiko, his sweetheart since childhood, was said to be disappointed by Nakajima's marriage.

THE COUPLE DRANK a heavy dose of sleeping medicine before plunging, locked in embrace, into the flame and smoke filled pit within view of horrified tourists.

Seconds later, they apparently changed their minds about death and screamed for help.

Two policemen wearing gas masks and hat-resistant shoes climbed 200 feet down the sheer walls of the steaming crater.

One was overcome by noxious fumes, but the second was able to reach the would-be suicides. He found the woman unconscious and the man gasping feebly. He dragged Nakajima about 30 feet, but darkness and the poisonous gas fumes forced him to give up the attempt.

TODAY, TWO TOURISTS found Nakajima, bloody and burned, on a rock near the lip of the crater. He was too exhausted to move.
